

Do Animals Have Souls?

Lena Swanson

Professional Animal Communicator

Psychic Symposium

Workshop

Earle Brown Heritage Center

May 22, 2010

11:30 am- 1:00 pm

If you've ever wondered what lies beyond the beautiful eyes of your animal companions this session is for you. Join professional animal communicator Lena Swanson for a fascinating exploration of the souls of our animal companions. Lena will share the incredible experiences she's had communicating with animals over the past eight years and help answer the following questions:

Do animals have souls? What are they like? Are they different or the same as human souls? Can an animal have a past life as a human or a human as an animal?

This workshop is offered as part of the day-long Psychic Symposium sponsored by Edge Life Expos. For more information about the symposium or to order tickets call 763.427.1312. Workshop cost is $19 including free admission to the event!

You will also discover:

- the role of our companion animals, both living and deceased, as spirit guides
- techniques for you to know who your companion animal spirit guides are and how to better communicate with them

Earle Brown Heritage Center

6155 Earle Brown Dr.

Brooklyn Center, MN 55430

[For a map & directions go to the website:
www.earlebrown.com](#)

www.lenaswanson.com

651.206.0644

Lena taught English as a Second Language for 22 years and holds a Master's Degree in Second Languages and Cultures. Her holistic healthcare practice focuses on achieving and maintaining wellness for both people and animals through a variety of services. Lena is a professional animal communicator, shamanic healer, past life regression facilitator, Reiki Master, and a consultant in the use of flower essences and essential oils. She also teaches a variety of animal communication and shamanic journeying classes. Lena consults, lectures, and teaches internationally.